A-ICE CONTRACT AND BILLING SYSTEM

Contain and manage everything related to airport fees and charges in one fully-integrated, compliant package.

OVERVIEW

For airport operators, managing fees and charges is a critical area. All services and infrastructure supplied to airlines must be precisely recorded and accurately billed in order to avoid any difficulties in the invoicing and payment process.

The A-ICE Airport Contract and Billing Management system (A-CBS) is a complete package for streamlining and integrating the administration of fees and charges.

A-CBS manages standard fees and charges as set out in general price lists and contracts, whether for a specific airline customer or flight.

It also ensures any variable influences on price, such as surcharges for night operations or bank holidays, are factored into calculations, using recorded flight data to accurately track all costs associated with aeronautical operations.

Totals are generated in a single mouse-click before being passed to the invoicing stage, which can be defined by, periods of time, specific customers or fees. Customizable billing documents can then either be printed out or sent to your customers electronically for payment.
